

Risk Profiling Snapshot

Gain critical vendor risk insights and add assurance to vendor selection

Sourcing, selecting, and onboarding a vendor can be complicated, time-consuming, and risky – especially when you lack the right information about their business, reputation, data breach history, and financial performance. How do you gain the consolidated insights you need to make better-informed, lower-risk purchasing decisions?

Reduce Selection Risks with Unified Vendor Intelligence

The Prevalent™ Risk Profiling Snapshot delivers centralized visibility into vendor demographic information, fourth-party technologies, ESG scores, and data breach history – as well as recent business, reputational and financial performance insights – enabling you to make risk-based decisions from the earliest stages of the third-party lifecycle.

With the Risk Profiling Snapshot, you can replace scattered, siloed vendor information sources with a single vendor profile that’s backed by industry-standard risk scoring.
